I. INTRODUCTION

State and national trends are challenging our service delivery systems to build functional bridges which will span the gulf between the often limited opportunities for persons with disabilities and the infinite possibilities inherent within our society. Improvements in special education and community-based services are opening up new possibilities for vocational and community participation for persons with severe disabilities.

Historically, the transition from school to adult life has left students with disabilities ill-prepared for independent living, work and post-secondary education and has typically consigned many individuals with more severe disabilities to sheltered workshops and activity centers. Studies of students with disabilities graduating from secondary schools indicate that the majority were under or unemployed, socially inactive, and still living at home with their parents. This lack of knowledge, resources, and skills demonstrated by these graduates often results in continued dependence upon society as well as the loss of potential human resources.

Current philosophies and technologies are challenging our past "best practices" as we re-evaluate the potential contributions of citizens with disabilities. As the panorama of possibilities unfolds, the traditional human services structures, previously, often seen as obstacles to the general application of the new philosophies and technologies, are challenged to change and to modify so that they once again are on the fore-front of developing greater opportunities for the people they serve.

South Dakota's human service agencies and education system have accepted the challenge, and have forged a strong coalition to implement the necessary changes. This agreement presents a common policy and conceptual framework for addressing interagency transition planning at the local level, thus insuring that youth with disabilities have access to the services and resources needed to enter adult life (and the world of work) successfully. Cooperating agencies will benefit from maximum coordination of services, more efficient utilization of agency resources, increased service options, and improved interagency communication.

II. POLICY STATEMENTS

The collaborating state agencies strongly believe, endorse, and support the following policy statements. It is the policy of South Dakota's human service agencies and education system that:

- A. All South Dakota citizens, including youth with disabilities, will have opportunities for full participation in work and community life.
- B. All human services systems in South Dakota will assist individuals to achieve independence and self-sufficiency.
- C. All human services systems in South Dakota recognize organized constituent groups of persons with disabilities as a primary source of information for program development by consulting with and advising such groups.

III. POLICY OBJECTIVES

In order to carry out South Dakota's common policy, the collaborating agencies agree that:

- A. All young people with disabilities will be prepared for and offered "integrated" work settings for "competitive" wages with access to necessary support services or be prepared to enter and succeed in post-secondary education training with access to necessary support services.
- B. All work opportunities will be geared to employer/industry needs.
- C. All work and learning opportunities offered will be commensurate with young people's level of ability, interest, and informed choice and should be expected to change over time (i.e. career ladder opportunities).
- D. All youth with disabilities shall have access to "functional" life skills curriculum and independent living services designed to prepare them to live and function in domestic, recreational, social, community and vocational environments.
- E. A transitional planning process, as a component of the Individual Education Plan (IEP), including identification of resources for implementation (e.g. case management), will be initiated for every youth with a disability age 14 and older or at a younger age as determined by the Local Education Agency (LEA) IEP team.
- F. Upon exit from school, all youth with a disability will have incorporated into their IEP, all transition services necessary for the individual to successfully transition to the next environment or service delivery system.
- G. All young people with disabilities will have access to appropriate independent living options in integrated community based settings.

- H. To the extent possible, the Individual Education Plan will be integrated into the planning documents of all coordinating agencies, and where possible, eliminate duplication of such plans.

IV. COORDINATION

In order to operationalize South Dakota's transition process, LEA and adult service agency efforts must be coordinated to best serve the transition needs of these youth and young adults. Coordination maximizes existing resources, thus avoids duplication and promotes continuity of service provision.

A. IEP team

The IEP team develops the transition plan, identifies needed services and ensures that case coordination occurs for each student. The IEP team is composed of the student, parents/guardians, school personnel, community agency service providers, and other appropriate individuals. The team's purposes are:

1. to develop the Individual Education Plan describing necessary transition services;
2. to assign service responsibilities;
3. to implement the Individual Education Plan; and
4. to determine case management responsibility for each student who is eligible for VR services, or services from another adult service provider of case management services.

B. Transition Services Liaison Project (TSLP)

Through a joint effort between Department of Education (DOE) and (DRS) VR, three regional transition liaisons and one centrally located coordinator, will provide support, services and assist in the continuity of case management as students move from secondary school settings to post-school settings. The liaisons will assist schools, VR counselors, and students with disabilities to access appropriate transition services.

C. Transition Services for Students under SBVI

The Division of Service to the Blind and Visually Impaired, through a cooperative agreement effort with the South Dakota School for the Blind and Visually impaired has funded and implemented a full time staff person to work with transition aged students who are blind and visually impaired. This staff person works as a case manager for the student and provides supports and services to students as they move from school settings to post-secondary school settings.

D. Data

In order for state and local agencies and LEAs to carry out effective planning and assessment of transition services, meaningful data on student needs and service outcomes must be available. The cooperating state agencies agree to share with each other data on the needs of students with disabilities and the outcome of services and programs.

E. Confidentiality of personal information:

To provide a seamless transition for students with disabilities, student specific information must be made available to appropriate agencies. The individual, or their representative, must be informed that providing such information is voluntary; however, lack of information will not interfere with the determination of eligibility or the development of the Individualized Education Plan (IEP) and/or Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE).

When individuals apply for services, they are also approving the exchange of information with cooperating departments in state government for the purpose of collecting, reporting, analyzing data and to facilitate access to services/programs offered by the cooperating agencies.

Proper procedures for maintaining confidentiality of shared student information will be adhered to by all agencies entering into this agreement.

F. Training

The cooperating agencies will encourage staff to take part in training sponsored by other cooperating agencies. Each agency will provide a copy of its annual training plan to the other cooperating agencies. Each agency will ensure that services are provided by qualified and appropriately certified staff.

G. Resolving Difference between LEAs and Cooperating Agencies

ARSD 24:05:27:13.01. Agency responsibilities for transition services provides the following:

...If a participating agency fails to provide agreed-upon transition services contained in the IEP of a student with a disability, the public agency responsible for the student's education shall, as soon as possible, initiate an IEP team meeting for the purpose of identifying alternative strategies to meet the transition objectives and, if necessary, revising the student's IEP.

Nothing in this section relieves a participating agency, including a state vocational rehabilitation agency, of the responsibility to provide or pay for any transition service that the agency would otherwise provide to students with disabilities who meet the eligibility criteria of that agency.

A participating agency is a state or local agency, other than the public agency responsible for a student's education that is financially and legally responsible for providing transition services to the student.

The LEA, therefore, must "identify alternative strategies" for implementing the transition services while pursuing resolution of the difference with a public agency through this process.

During the pendency of the dispute resolution procedures described herein, the LEA has the responsibility to ensure that services required to provide free appropriate public education (FAPE) will continue. Disputed service(s) currently being provided will continue until the outcome of the dispute resolution process. The implementation of disputed service(s) not previously provided will be pursuant to a decision through the described resolution process.

1. All attempts will be made to resolve disputes at the lowest possible level.
2. When disputes cannot be resolved by designated department representatives, a written explanation of the dispute will be sent to the Director of Special Education, Office of Special Education and the director of the respective agency involved. These individuals, in consultation with each other, shall review the issues and make a determination as to how the dispute should be resolved. The decision will be shared in writing with each level involved within twenty (20) calendar days of receipt of request for the determination and will include reasons for the decision.
3. If a resolution is not obtained by the Director of the Office of Special Education and the director of the agency involved in the dispute, the matter will be referred to the Secretary of the Department of Education and Cultural Affairs and the Secretary of the other department involved in the dispute. These individuals will jointly make a final determination within 30 calendar days.

V. DEFINITIONS

1. Special Education Definitions – taken from the Administrative Rules of South Dakota (ARSD 24:05)

A. Free appropriate public education (ARSD 24:05:13:02)

For purposes of this article, the term, free appropriate public education, or FAPE, includes special education and related services which meet the following requirements:

1. Are provided at public expense, under public supervision and direction, and without charge;
2. Meet the standards of the state board in this article and the implementing regulations for Part B of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act as in effect June 4, 1997, and 34 C.F.R. Parts 300-302, published in the Federal Register on March 12, 1999;
3. Include preschool, kindergarten, elementary school, and secondary school education in South Dakota; and
4. Are provided in conformity with an individual educational program and this article.

FAPE shall be made available to any eligible individual child with a disability who needs special education and related services even though the child is advancing from grade to grade. FAPE shall also be provided to eligible children with disabilities who have been suspended or expelled from school consistent with chapters 24:05:26 and 24:05:26.01. The determination that a child is eligible under this article must be made on an individual basis by an IEP team.

B. Least restrictive environment (ARSD 24:05:13:01.16)

...a learning environment for a child in need of special education or special education and related services, including a child placed in a public or private institution or another care facility, that includes to the maximum extent appropriate children who are not in need of special education or special education and related services, as determined through the child's individual educational program.

C. Related services (ARSD 24:05:13:01.22)

...services that support the provision of special education, including transportation and those developmental, corrective, and other supportive services determined by an IEP team to be required for an eligible child to benefit from special education.

D. Special Education (ARSD 24:05:13:01.26)

...instruction specially designed to meet the unique needs of a student with disabilities at no cost to parents or guardians, including classroom instruction, instruction in physical education, home instruction, and instruction in hospitals, institutions, and other settings.

E. Students with disabilities (ARSD 24:05:24:01:01)

...are students evaluated in accordance with chapter 24:05:25 as having autism, deaf-blindness, deafness, hearing impairment, mental retardation, multiple disabilities, orthopedic impairment, other health impairments, emotional disturbance, specific learning disabilities, speech or language impairments, traumatic brain injury, or visual impairments including blindness, which adversely affects educational performance, and who, because of those disabilities, need special education or special education and related services. If it is determined through an appropriate evaluation, under chapter 24:05:25, that a student has one of the disabilities identified in this chapter, but only needs a related service and not special education, the student is not a student with a disability under this article. If, consistent with this chapter, the related service required by the student is considered special education, the student is a student with a disability under this article.

F. Transition services (ARSD 24:05:27:13.02.)

Transition services are a coordinated set of activities for a student, designed within an outcome-oriented process, which promotes movement from school to post-school activities, including postsecondary education, vocational training, integrated employment (including supported employment), continuing and adult education, adult services, independent living, or community participation. The coordinated set of activities shall be based on the individual student's needs, taking into account the student's preferences and interests, and shall include instruction, related services, community experiences, the development of employment and other post-school adult living objectives, and, if appropriate, acquisition of daily living skills and functional vocational evaluation.

Transition services for students with disabilities may be special education, if provided as specially designed instruction, or related services, if required to assist a student with a disability to benefit from special education.

Participating South Dakota human service agencies participating in this agreement and the education system have defined transition from school to adult life as: "a carefully planned, outcome oriented process, initiated by the local education agency or primary service provider which establishes and implements a multi-agency service plan for each youth with special transition needs." Transition planning focuses on six areas: assessment, employment, independent living, community participation, adult services and post-secondary education.

G. Qualified Personnel (24:05:16:02.)

...personnel who meet certification, licensing, registration, or other comparable requirements approved or recognized by the division (DECA) for the profession or discipline in which the person is providing special education or related services, including early intervention and early childhood services.

2. Vocational Rehabilitation Definitions

A. Competitive employment

Work in the competitive labor market that is performed on a full-time or part-time basis in an integrated setting; and for which an individual is compensated at or above the minimum wage, but not less than the customary wage and level of benefits paid by the employer for the same or similar work performed by individuals who are not disabled.

B. Community rehabilitation program

A community based program that provides directly or facilitates the provision of vocational rehabilitation services to individuals with disabilities to enable those individuals to maximize their opportunities for employment, including career development.

C. Employment outcome

...entering or retaining full-time or, if appropriate, part-time competitive employment in the integrated labor market to the greatest extent practicable; supported employment; or any other type of employment that is consistent with an individual's strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, capabilities, interests, and informed choice.

D. Integrated setting

1. With respect to the provision of services, means a setting typically found in the community in which students with disabilities interact with non-disabled students.
2. With respect to an employment outcome, means a setting typically found in the community in which VR consumers interact with non-disabled individuals, other than non-disabled individuals who are providing services to those consumers, to the same extent that non-disabled individuals in comparable positions interact with other persons.

E. Ongoing support services

Services that are:

1. Provided, at a minimum, twice monthly and are needed to support and maintain an individual with the most significant disability;
2. Identified based on a determination by the designated State unit of the individual's needs as specified in an individualized written rehabilitation program; and
3. Furnished by VR from the time of job placement until transition to extended services, unless post-secondary services are provided following transition, and thereafter by one or more extended service providers through the individual's term of employment.

F. Substantial impediment to employment

...means that a physical or mental impairment (in light of attendant, medical, psychological, vocational, educational, and other related factors) hinders an individual from preparing for, entering into, engaging in, or retaining employment consistent with the individual's abilities and capabilities.
